[SYNE] Emergency Report on Ducia Attack

3. CONTENT:

As acting CEO of the Synenose Accord, I am issuing a report regarding our analysis of the Ducia Foundry Attack that occurred 5/7/112.

Ducia Foundry Team Target of Mysterious Attack

X-70MU - Following up on an anonymous report, The Scope has obtained classified sensor data from a Sisters of Eve search vessel sent deep into w-space. The operation was undertaken at the request of Ducia Foundry for the recovery of a team which was reported missing earlier in the week. The leaked sensor data reveals damage visible on recovered ships and outpost structures which is minimal and does not follow known Sleepers attack patterns. All members of the missing team are as yet unaccounted for after a thorough search of the mining outpost. Ducia Foundry spokesman Youd Rassosa has declined to comment at this time.

The Accord reported during the First Seyllin Conference [PRE LINK: Access Filter J-008575-DED-ACCORD] that the Sleeper civilization's combat drones, which we term "Guardians", are advanced artificial constructs capable of limited sentience. Their advanced tactics have remained fairly constant over the past year since our first contact with them on March tenth of Y111.

The apparent abduction of the Ducia Foundry crew in this situation is extremely abnormal, and draws attention to Ms. Evanda Char's thesis on the possibility of memetic contamination by the Sleeper AI's, citing examples of possible clone-jackings carried out in New Eden.

The Sleeper culture itself is, in our opinion, likely a "upload" society. Facing a possible demographic catastrophe due to a widespread plague, the Sleeper Empire evacuated the physical realm by means of vast data networks to contain their intelligences in a sea of virtual reality.

Now, it seems likely that these bodies, abducted by their Guardians, might be somehow used to reenter the physical world, giving their consciousnesses a vessel to integrate with our world once more.

The other possibility is that Blooder cultists, once drawn to the Red Nebula of w-space, are now hunting targets of opportunity there. However, how would they have found this facility in the first place? And defeated its defenses?

These are still largely theories. But we will be watching the situation closely.

5. ANALYSIS:

Acting CEO of the Synenose Accord Justin Vallar has brought the Ducia Foundry incident to the attention of the wider Intergalactic Summit audience. Estimated capsuleer exposure is limited, for the time being, however conservative estimates put baseliner access at one million hits or more.

6. PLANNED ACTIONS:

- > Monitor communication for any developments.
- > Submit Synenose Accord for priority surveillance by Taskforce Ishaeka's secondary teams.
